

At the Edge of Friendship

Rusty gunmetal sedan,
Penn Ave & Graham Street,

between the corner dairy
& the vegan cafe:

A MAN

STANDS

front license plate,
homemade,

black block letters,
uncentered.

-- Sarah Williams-Devereux

Sarah Williams-Devereux lives in Squirrel Hill and works for Carlow University's English Department. Her work has been published in Sampsonia Way Magazine, Pittsburgh Love Stories, Voices from the Attic and SubtleTea.com. Many writers featured in Chapter & Verse are guests of Prosody, produced by Jan Beatty and Ellen Wadey. Prosody airs Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. WYEP 91.3 FM.

LOVE THIS STORY? HELP US WRITE MORE.
Click here to become a Pittsburgh City Paper member today.

TRENDING

Union Project gets fired up with Mother of All Pottery Sales

On the Tahn: Dance parties and live music at Roxian, Government Center, and more \(May 5-8\)

National grant to provide \$450,000 to Allegheny County artists and organizations

MEET THE ANTI-VIOLENCE EXPERT ADVOCATES WANT ON JAIL OVERSIGHT BOARD

SPEAKING OF CHAPTER AND VERSE